

MARKET POLLEN

Your AI-Powered Field Marketing Command Center

For field marketers who build relationships, not spreadsheets.

What Market Pollen Does For You

Market Pollen replaces scattered spreadsheets, forgotten follow-ups, and manual data entry with a single AI-driven platform built for field marketers who are on the road every day.

Plan Your Day in 30 Seconds

- Open your day planner and instantly see who you need to follow up with, what to say, and the best way to reach them.
- AI analyzes each contact's history and recommends the right timing -- not just "tomorrow" but based on relationship stage and urgency.
- Get an optimized driving route from your store to every opportunity, ready to open in Google Maps with one tap.

Log Visits Without Slowing Down

- Dictate your notes after a visit. AI extracts the contact name, business, reachout type, products given, and personal details automatically.
- No forms to fill out, no dropdowns to navigate. Speak naturally: "Talked to Sarah at Lewis Bank, dropped off a sample tray, she loves hiking."
- Every interaction is logged with full context -- type, date, notes, and any donations -- in one step.

Generate Personalized Emails Instantly

- AI writes outreach emails using everything it knows: past visits, donations, personal interests, and upcoming events.
- Don't like the tone? Type one line of feedback ("make it shorter" or "mention the holiday") and it regenerates.
- Copy the email, send it from your own inbox, and log it as a tracked reachout -- all without leaving the app.

Never Lose Track of a Follow-Up

- AI suggests follow-up dates based on where each relationship stands -- new leads get shorter windows, established contacts get longer ones.
- Add follow-ups directly to your Google or Apple calendar with one click. Get email reminders with full event details.
- Mark follow-ups as done when completed. They disappear from your planner so you always see what's still open.

Discover New Opportunities Nearby

- Find potential businesses near your store through Google Places -- restaurants, event centers, banks, offices.
- When you visit a prospect and create a contact, Market Pollen auto-links the opportunity. No duplicate businesses, no manual matching.
- Track which opportunities you've visited, converted, or dismissed. Focus your energy where it counts.

Track Progress Toward Your Goals

- Every product you give out -- bundtlet cards, sample trays, cakes -- counts toward your quarterly "mouths reached" goal.
- Watch your progress bar climb in real-time after every logged interaction. Hit 100% and the tracker turns gold.
- Managers see progress across all stores at a glance. Individual contributors see their own store's numbers front and center.

Report Without the Busywork

- Export your donation data to Excel with one click. Columns adjust dynamically based on your product lineup.
- Organization-level exports generate a multi-sheet spreadsheet -- one tab per store -- ready for leadership review.
- All data is real-time. No end-of-week summaries to compile, no numbers to reconcile.

Manage Your Entire Team From One Place

- Invite team members with granular permissions: view-only or edit access, scoped to specific stores.
- Set organization-wide quarterly goals. Every store inherits the same target automatically.
- Add or remove campaign products, adjust mouth values, and toggle what's active -- changes apply everywhere instantly.

Stop managing spreadsheets.
Start closing relationships.
